Consumer Financial Protection Bureau Reporter

The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau Reporter is your complete source for critical guidance on the sweeping new rules, regulations and enforcement activities supervised by the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau. With practice commentary and analysis by Ralph C. Ferrara and Timothy Q. Karcher of Proskauer Rose LLP and original co-author Gary Apfel of Pepper Hamilton LLP, the Reporter is an essential tool to help legal practitioners and their corporate clients navigate this complex, evolving environment.

The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau has been extremely active throughout 2013, issuing regulations and guidance on a diverse and wide array of consumer finance issues affecting the mortgage industry, lenders to students, credit card issuers and newly-regulated debt collectors, as well as engaging in direct supervision and examinations of certain financial entities.

Wide-ranging, insightful, and regularly updated, the Reporter is your COMPLETE SOURCE for critical guidance on the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau with commentary and analysis to ensure compliance.

Meet our esteemed authors:

Ralph C Ferrara, Partner, Proskauer

Ralph Ferrara represents corporations and individuals in complex securities class and shareholder derivative actions, advises corporate clients on Securities and Exchange Commission reporting and disclosure requirements, represents corporations and individuals in government investigations and enforcement proceedings, conducts corporate internal investigations, handles consumer financial services issues and counsels corporate officers and boards on all of these matters. Mr. Ferrara has argued on five occasions before the United States Supreme Court on cases, appeared in each of the U.S. Circuit Courts of Appeal and represented clients in state and federal courts across the country.

Timothy Karcher, Partner, Proskauer

Timothy Karcher concentrates his practice on financial restructuring and insolvency law, crisis management, and the acquisition and sale of assets and troubled companies in chapter 11. He has substantial experience representing public and private companies, secured and unsecured creditors, investors, funds, and financial institutions in a broad range of U.S. and international business restructuring and litigation cases.

Original co-author:

Gary Apfel, Partner, Pepper Hamilton

Gary Apfel's experience includes advising on compliance matters, corporate governance issues, reorganizations and restructurings, mergers and acquisitions, public and private securities offerings and commercial transactions. He also advises boards of directors regarding their fiduciary duties and other responsibilities.
